

Happy New Year!

Well, here we go again, another week at work, another week like all the rest in the year. Definitely a red and black check ribbon day today!

*Nothing in my life has changed in the last week, month, even years. Every week like all the others. I don't mind that, I know where I stand. No doubt this week will bring a new set of events, characters, chat up lines and challenges to exhaust me. Having to be nice to people all day, which I take seriously as it is my job, is mentally tiring. The constant barrage of having to say one thing, but really thinking another is tough. You know me, when I get tired I am tempted to let rip, but I always seem to hold on and just make it to the end of the day without upsetting anyone!
I'll be OK, I will make it through,*
